

Join the sentences together using none, neither, all, some, both, a few, or a little, and a relative pronoun.

EXAMPLES: They offered me some cake. I ate a little of it.
They offered me some cake, a little of which I ate.

There were seven people at the meeting. I knew all of them.
There were seven people at the meeting, all of whom I knew.

- 1 He showed me two jackets. I didn't like either of them.
- 2 He introduced me to three people. I hadn't met any of them before.
- 3 We saw three films. I had seen them all before.
- 4 There were at least twenty people there. I didn't know any of them.
- 5 Seven people applied for the job. Some of them were very well-qualified.
- 6 She offered me some orange-juice. I drank a little of it.
- 7 On the table were several oatcakes. I ate a few of them.
- 8 He gave me two books. I had read both before.
- 9 They delivered one hundred machines. None of them worked properly.
- 10 He has two sisters. They are both doctors.

Whose/ of which

Dans les phrases suivantes remplacez of which par whose.

1. My room is the one the windows of which are open.
2. The firm's new policy, the aim of which is to increase the productivity, is in danger.
3. The book, the cover of which is stained, belongs to my daughter.
4. The manager's decision, the purpose of which was to improve the firm's situation in the world, led nowhere.
5. The house, the roof of which can be seen behind the trees, is our country cottage.

Omission du pronom relatif/

place de la préposition

Reformulez les phrases suivantes en anglais « parlé ».

Exemple: Do you know the girl to whom I was talking?

Do you know the girl I was talking to?

1. The actress to whom Laurence Olivier was married was Vivien Leigh.
2. The old beggar at whom they were laughing was in fact very rich.
3. The book about which I spoke to you the other day is a masterpiece.
4. Peter is a man of whom everyone is afraid.
5. The social class from which he had come was slowly disappearing.
6. The doctor from whom I got the medicine is a "French Doctor".

Traduction de « dont »

Traduisez « dont » dans les phrases suivantes.

1. L'auteur dont le roman a été adapté à l'écran.
2. Ses romans, dont plusieurs ont été adaptés au cinéma, sont des romans policiers.
3. Wilde, dont j'aime tant les comédies, fut rejeté à la fin de sa vie.
4. Il m'a prêté plusieurs livres dont aucun ne m'a plu.
5. Ses films, dont quelques-uns passent à la télé, sont des histoires d'amour.
6. Le film dont je t'ai parlé passe à l'Odéon.
7. Un film dont le tournage a duré six mois.
8. Une ville dont le nom est associé au cinéma.
9. Ils emportèrent des bijoux, dont la plupart valaient une fortune.
10. Le pays dont le président a démissionné se trouve en Amérique du Sud.