

Introduction

Hook :

- In bodybuilding competitions, doping can be legal, but a lot of bodybuilders are dying at the age of 30.
- Last summer, many records were broken at the Paris Olympic Games. But could legal doping help to break those new records again ?
- Every time a world record is broken in sport, people's immediate thoughts are about doping. If performance-enhancing drugs were actually allowed, this problem wouldn't exist.

Thesis

The article provides answers / raises questions about the potential impact of legal doping on performances in major events like the Olympic Games or the Paralympic Games.
