

Key questions for a commentary :

Does AI really completely destroy our capacity to think or isn't its use actually a way to be more productive?

Are we really becoming lazier because of AI or is it transforming us into stronger humans ?

Should we really narrow/restrict our use of AI instead of trying to improve it ?